Alpha sounds in the Aegean

Chios has long been considered one of the most beautiful Aegean islands. Now, with the 1,200 capacity Palazzo club, Chios has gained a new attraction. In addition to an elegant ambience, the club boasts a sound system of exceptional quality: a DYNACORD alpha Straubing, March 2007 To ensure that the dance floors of the exquisitely furnished Palazzo remain packed at all times, the management regularly brings in internationally famous DJs from abroad to relieve the house roster. With a capacity of 1,200 guests, the club offers not only a first-class programme but also an exceptional sound system to deliver it. And this is the clincher, as the club's manager, Tsatsalis Leonidas explains: "Whilst in terms of location and ambience, the Palazzo can easily hold its own with the best in Greece, it's our sound system that really sets us apart. There we really are setting new standards, as we've been told now, repeatedly, by visiting DJs."

The sound system that gives the Palazzo the edge is an alpha system from DYNACORD. In use now in many of the world's top discotheques (including the Pacha in New York), the alpha emerged as the clear leader from tests conducted by the Palazzo team, and a trip to the company headquarters in Straubing convinced the Greek specialists in club management that the DYNACORD support team could be relied upon to perform to the same level as the alpha system itself.

At the conclusion of the planning phase, six tops and six subs were installed in the main area of the Palazzo. Two additional MX 12 boxes in the upper gallery ensure that the sound pressure level there is also ideal at all times. The overall planning and implementation of the installation was entrusted to DYNACORD's Greek distribution partner, Nedis S.A., and the service provider Focus Studio, whilst a team of DYNACORD technicians flew in to apply the finishing touches. The result is all the owners could have wished for: "We are more than satisfied with the sound in every last corner of the Palazzo," says Leonidas. "And so are our guests and the DJs. The alpha was absolutely the right choice."
